

Opportunity Knocks

Now here is a property to get your imagination stirring. This property will be offered to the market for the first time in 56 years since it was built. The home has raised two generations. Wantirna is a suburb that is going ahead in leaps and bounds and this property ticks so many boxes. Located in the Golden Triangle of Wantirna, this large allotment offers an opportunity that is short in supply. The current brick home has 4 bedrooms, lounge, dining room and large family room. The structure is sound and liveable as is, but it requires a renovation to bring it up to modern standards. Outside there is a bungalow and several sheds as well as the double garage.
