Boasting immense street appeal, this meticulously renovated Victorian home presents an elevated north facing verandah and elegant block weatherboards set behind an immaculately landscaped garden. Opening onto an arched hallway showcasing gleaming Baltic floorboards, the home flows through to an open plan living and dining area with a lofty pitched ceiling, flooded with natural light and flowing out via a full wall of glass doors to an expansive paved entertainers' courtyard garden. Adjacent, a spacious contemporary kitchen comprises a 900mm freestanding European gas rang alongside an oversized stone island benchtop. A separate formal living area offers French doors opening out to the east, ideal for bathing the space in morning sunshine.
